Red Wines

Grifoni Le Torri R. Piceno Italy €12.80 from €15.95
Rosso Piceno is one of those little-known regions which just happens to make great wines. Lovely depth to go with food but soft enough to drink on its own.

L'Enclos de St Jacques France €13.60 from €16.95
A super Bordeaux wine, with the classic savoury style allied to a lovely rich middle palate. Great with the Sunday roast, but a super wine for any good dinner.

La Lippa Italy €14.50 from €17.95
Super-duper barbera with lovely ripe cherry fruits and a smooth and supple palate. Really good on its own but fabulous with food. Yum-yum!

Milhou-Lacugue Truffières France €17.50 from €21.50
As we professionals say "exquisite tertiary aromatics, old boy!" that is, perfectly mature and drinking astonishingly well right now – a great bargain!

Rich and ripe with lots of dense fruits, a great dinner wine. Will keep but is just so good to drink right now, with power and finesse.

A real bargain as this is a top-notch pinot noir from New Zealand with a great depth of character. Very well-balanced and a good match for many dishes.

Ch. La Tour de Mons '11 France €27.95 from €34.95
A dense, dark and rich Margaux with a full body and some nice oak characters. It's a great match for roast meats, and would be great for Christmas dinner.

Ch. Clauzet '10 France €28.45 from €35.55
Big and hearty, as befits the vintage, with lots of juicy ripe fruits and a very smooth palate.

Ch. Poujeaux '08 France €35.50 from €44.50
Classic claret, with fine tannins, elegant mid-palate fruit and a long, savoury but rich finish. Roast beef, anyone?

Another classic, with a touch of sweet oak, and ready to age further though drinking well right now.

Big, big and powerful, this Late Bottled Vintage is a massive wine, which will age for years but is a fabulous drink right now. Strong stuff, honestly Mum!
