Mathern, Nahe, Germany

The wonderful wines of Mathern are all characterized by their terroir of volcanic soils. Lively and mineral, they are wines coming from "Grand Cru" sites. The Nahe is situated between the Mosel and the Rheingau. Although the Nahe is one of the smaller German wine regions, its extraordinary range of soil types is second to none. For this reason, the region is able to produce quite diverse wines from relatively few grape varieties. The steeper sites of volcanic or weathered stone, and those with red, clayish slate seem predestined for elegant, piquant Riesling wines of great finesse and a light spiciness. The Mathern wines are all hand harvested and made with great care. They exude the lively warmth and charisma of their owner Gloria. All hand-harvest and Vegan Friendly

Luigi Righetti, Valpolicella, Veneto Italy

Located in Valgatara, in the heart of the Valpolicella Classico region near Verona, the Luigi Righetti estate is a small, family run winery. Since 1909, when Angelo Righetti first earned a reputation as an outstanding winemaker, the family has focussed on producing quality wines offering extremely good value. Righetti's wines exhibit an exceptional balance between fruit, wood, acidity and alcohol. The current winemaker, Gianmaria Righetti, is the fifth generation of the Righetti family to carry on the family wine-making tradition. Gianmaria's father, Luigi, took over this same role back in the 1940s. Today, he is still active in the estate's day to day operation. Gianmaria, who took over winemaking responsibilities in 1985, has broadened the range to include single vineyard offerings and wines with great international appeal.
